2. RODGER² DONOGHUE (John¹) was born about 1804 in Glen Flesk, County Kerry, Ireland. He died on 16 Sep 1857 in Northfield, Washington, Vermont, USA. He married Ellen SWEENEY on 01 Feb 1831 in Glenflesk, Kerry, Ireland. She was born in 1816 in Ireland. She died on 20 Dec 1896 in Northfield, Washington, Vermont, USA.

Notes for Rodger DONOGHUE:

Gravestone marked Rodger Donohoe. Death date on the tombstone is different from that in the Town records, but coincides with the State archives. His age is given as about 53. years.

Gravestone records parents names as Roger and Honorah. John Clarke Donahue, Sr., identified him at gravesite as "probably" his grandfather Timothy's oldest brother, and thus in surprise, noted this meant his great-grandfather was John, not Roger. Obituary for Old Roger's grandson, John Moynihan, identifies the grandson as a counsin of J.C. Donahue, Jeremiah Cornelius, to whom the body was released from the undertaker in Bellows Falls, Vermont.

Notes for Ellen SWEENEY:

Ellen could have purchase land and house in what is now the Village of Northfield VT around Central Street recorded 6 May 1867.

From the Northfield News, Tuesday, December 8, 1896

Mrs. Ellen Donahue, aged 105 years, died at the residence of her son, John Donahue, at Bellows Falls, Tuesday, and the remains were conveyed to this town on the afternoon mail Thursday and interred in the Catholic cemetery. Mrs. Donahue was well known to many of the older residents of Northfield and was the widow of Roger Donahue who died in 1856; among those noted at the burial were Mrs. Minehan and Mrs. Sullivan of Bellos Falls, sisters of the deceased John Donahue and two daughters, as well as four nephews.

I'm thinking that the reporter/editor meant sisters of the deceased Roger Donahue. Now I have to check on this Minehan and Sullivan.

Now, something more to think about. In Bellows Falls are McAuliffes, related in some way, though not descended from, William McAuliffe, husband to Bridget (Sullivan). Bridget was 1st cousin to Jeremiah C. on his mother's side, Old Mary (Doherty) Donahue. Bridget's mother was Bridget (Doherty) Sullivan.

So, I have either another set of Sullivans to run down, or they are all connected. Old Mary and her sister Bridget were from Glenflesk (as was Bridget's daughter Bridget). As to the Minehans, are they Moynihans/Monahans, whose spelling has run rampant? My next furlough day, in January, is going to be spent in Bellows Falls, okay, Rockingham, at the Town hall.

Here is a great piece of info from the Northfield News. It gives a new direction (sort of) to search. I say sort of because my cousin has mentioned that my grandfather talked about us being related to Donahues in Bellows Falls (Just so you know, should you go looking into anything official, Bellows Falls, like White River Jct., is a place name. The actual, official entity is the Town of Rockingham. And as long as I have taken this detour, The Town of Hartford is the repository of records for White River Jct.).

Rodger DONOGHUE and Ellen SWEENEY had the following children:

6. i. JOHANNA³ DONAHUE (daughter of Rodger DONOGHUE and Ellen SWEENEY) was born in 1829 in Glenflesk, County Kerry, Ireland. She died on 08 Feb 1903. He married Mary DONAHUE (daughter of Owen DONAHUE and Mary MOYNIHAN) on 15 Apr 1872 in Northfield, Washington, Vermont, USA. She was born in Dec 1851 in Ireland. She died on 28 Mar 1904 in Northfield, Washington, Vermont, USA.

Notes for John DONOGHUE:

John's death record shows John and Annora Donahue as parents and gives his age at time of death as 80.

There is a John Donehue listed in the 1853 Grand List of Northfield VT. It shows he owns .25 acre but does not say in what school district. His net worth is listed as $200. I don't know if it is this John Donahue.

Notes for Margaret SHEA:

Burial permit was issued to Roger Donahue and Margaret was buried in St. John's cemetery also known as the "old catholic cemetery." Her burial permit says that she was 92 years and 10 months old at her death.

Death record shows birth month as May, no date is given. Housekeeper is her occupation. The informant listed is Margetti (clerk's writing hard to read so could be mistake) Wrofton (sp?) from Boston Mass.

From the 3 Mar 1903 Northfield News, page 8: Mrs. J.W. Wrafter of Boston, visited Mrs. Margaret Donahue last week, returning home Friday.

1900 census gives year of immigration as 1851 and says she had 9 children of whom 5 are living.

It gives his birthplace as Northfield. 1900 Census has John & Ann in Montpelier on Elm Street. 1900 census says his birth year is 1852 and that he is born in Vermont. It says he and Ann were married for 15 years with no children. His age is listed as 48. His occupation is listed as carpenter.

- 12. vii. MARY DONAHUE (daughter of John DONOGHUE and Margaret SHEA) was born in Jan 1855. She married (1) DANIEL O'BRIEN on 25 Aug 1882 in Boston, Suffolk, Massachusetts. Notes for Denis DONOGHUE:

It is unknown at this time if Denis is a brother or cousin to Roger, John, and Timothy. He cosigned a note for Timothy, which is the only connection we seem to have between them except for the recollection of Timothy's grandson, John Clark Donahue, who identified the "Falls Donahues" (descendants of Denis) as cousins.

A Dennis Donehue is listed in the Grand List of Northfield VT for the 1853. He owns horses, oxen, and cows or horses, colts, and oxen (hard to tell which category the numbers are for). He also owned 7 acres in school district 45. His net worth was $550.

His job was to go to the quarry in the early morning and hitch the horses to the wheel that powered the pump and then pump out the water that was in the quarry hole. Something went terribly wrong. When the quarrymen arrived at work, they found Dennis with his leg caught in the wheel. His leg was crushed and the femal artery severed. The wheel acted like a tourniquet, keeping him from bleeding to death. They put him on a door and rushed him down the hill to the doctor down in town but he bled to death.

From the Northfield News, Tuesday, November 24, 1896

Arrested on a Serious Charge.

Considerable talk has been indulged in during the past week over the sudden death of Carl Miller, a farmer residing a few miles outside the village limits.

As near as can be learned at present Miller and John Donahue had been disputing over some trivial matter while at work for David Boardman one week ago Monday and some hard words had been exchanged previous to this time; when night came Miller asked Boardman to go home with him saying that he was afraid to go alone. Mr. Boardman started with him and when on their way the horse was taken by the bits and some person struck Miller across the back of the neck and in the dark other blows were exchanged; after Boardman had got back into the team, from which it appears he got out after the horse was stopped, Miller seemed to sway from side to side and finally fell from the wagon to the frozen ground below. Miller was taken home where he lay in a sort of stupor till Thursday morning, when he died. A post mortem examination was held Friday, and Roger Donahue, John Donahue and Roger Donahue, Jr., were taken to Montpelier that same evening where they will remain in jail charged with manslaughter pending the hearing on the case which will be held some time this week.

This is from the front page of the Tuesday, December 1, 1896 Northfield News

Now Charged with Murder.

Roger Donahue and Two Sons Now Held on Above Charge. -- Hearing Postponed.

The hearing in the Donahue-Miller case was set to occur in Village hall., Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. C. M. Davis appeared for the Donahues and Frank Plumley and Z. S. Stanton for the state: Fred Howland, who today assumes the office of State's attorney in place of Mr. Stanton was also present to familiarize himself with the case. C. M. Davis asked that the case be continued till next week owing to the inability of his associate, Lawyer John Senter of Montpelier, to be present: after considerable conversation among the lawyers as to when they could find time to attend the hearing, the case was adjourned without date. Whether the hearing will be held in a week or not until the first part of January is not known at this time. Mr. Donahue and his two sons were present and were taken back to the county jail as Montpelier on the afternoon train where they will remain till they have a hearing. The charge against them was changed from manslaughter to murder, Saturday morning. There appears to be a difference of opinion as to whether there is enough proof to hold them on the charge.

And now, the conclusion, from the Tuesday, January 19, 1897 Northfield News (Starts on P. 1 and jumps to P 4)

Donahue-Miller Case.

Respondents are Released. Evidence did not warrant holding the Donahues.

So Decided Justice Thayer at the Hearing Last Week. Considerable Testimony Introduced. A Full Report of the Hearing.

The hearing in the Donahue-Miller manslaughter affair, after a long delay caused by pressure of business in county court which engaged the attention of the State's attorney, was commenced Thursday forenoon in Village hall, before Justice E. H. Thayer. C. M. Davis and John H. Senter appeared for respondents and the State was represented by F. C. Howland, State's attorney, and Hon. Zed Stanton, ex-State's attorney.

The Donahues, Roger, Roger Jr., and John, arrived in town on the morning mail, in charge of Jailor D. W. Dudley. At half past nine o'clock the witnesses, several in number, were called and duly sworn by Justice E. H. Thayer.

Mrs. David Boardman, who with her husband resides about one-half mile from the Donahue residence, was the first witness to testify. Mrs. Boardman told of the ownership by her husband of a cider mill located a short distance from his residence, which last fall was rented and taken charge of by the late Carlos Miller, who engaged in making cider; Justin Prentiss was hired to assist regularly and John Donahue to work an occasional day up to the week previous to Miller's death when Prentiss finished work and Donahue was then engaged to work every day. The last day the mill was in operation was Monday, Nov. 16, 1896, the morning of which day Miller appeared about nine o'clock in company with John Donahue, and during the forenoon witness frequently saw them through the window at their work. At about 7:30 in the evening Miller came into the house and inquired for Mr. Boardman; when interrogated as to his appearance and conduct at that time, Mrs. Boardman said that "it was bad; he was so drunk he could hardly stand." Shortly after Miller came into the house again followed a short time after by John Donahue, who asked him to go out to the mill, but Miller said something about being in no hurry when John went to help him out; Miller spoke and said "do not try to carry me out." John replied, "I guess you will see whether we can take you out or not." Mrs. Boardman saw them struggling together toward the kitchen door and heard Miller strike heavily in the wood shed; shortly after, her attention being attracted by a noise in the front yard, looked through the window and saw Donahue sitting astride Miller who was making a big outcry to be let up; at this time it was evident that Donahue had been drinking, "but he was not very bad;" after he had sat on him as long as he wanted to, he let Miller up and came to the window saying he was "sorry to make them so much trouble."

After this again saw the two between the cider mill and the house, where Donahue was again sitting upon Miller who was "yelling to be let up." While this latter squabble was in progress, Mr. Boardman, husband of the witness, was indoors and thinking perhaps they might kill each other, went out, whereupon Donahue jumped up and ran round the corner of the house; the horses were then hitched into Miller's team as Mr. Boardman was weary of such performances on his premises and insisted on Miller going home without delay, but the latter demurred giving as a reason that he felt timid and upon solicitation Mr. Boardman got into the rear part of the wagon to accompany him part of the way. Miller took the reins and drove the horse himself, starting about 9:30 in the evening. After a time witness becoming nervous at the long delay of her husband, started in search of him and was told at the Donahue house that one of the men there had also accompanied Miller home; thought it very strange that two men should be necessary to accompany a man home. At this time Roger Donahue, Sr., said to witness, "you talk a good deal like some of my other neighbors and you said that my children stole but they never stole as much as your father." Other interesting testimony was given by Mrs. Boardman when placed under cross examination.

David Boardman, husband of the preceding witness, testified in substance as did his wife regarding points on which they were both familiar. When witness and Miller started away there was in the wagon three casks of cider containing in all about 145 gallons. While on the way one of horses of their team was taken by the bits by Roger Donahue while John came up behind the wagon; Roger said, "Don't be in a hurry, I want to smash Carl's face," "No, you'll not smash anybody's face," replied Boardman. After a good deal of quibbling back and forth the bits were finally released and they went on followed by the Donahues; while witness was holding the wheel easing up the load to allow the horses to rest, Roger came up and asked who that man driving was; Mr. Boardman told Miller to drive on home and he himself got out of the wagon saying as Roger came up, "I have left Miller and told him to drive home." Roger made no reply but hollered to Carl who stopped his team; Roger and John passed the witness to go where Miller was while Roger Jr., remained behind with Mr. Boardman; witness several times yelled to Miller to drive on which was unheeded; after a short time Roger and John came back down the road towards witness and Roger, when witness wondered why Miller did not drive along, replied that perhaps he had fallen from his wagon so they went up the road and found him lying by the roadside, the reins held loosely in his hand; John Donahue was the first to find him and said, "here lies the miserable wretch," and then placed Miller's left leg over his right. Miller said "Are you with me Dave?" "I am and will be with you till I get you home." was the response; Roger Donahue took hold and helped place Miller in the wagon while Roger Jr., said "you were right Davis, and we were wrong" and took the reins and drove the remainder of the way home; witness made Miller as comfortable as possible in the wagon and while on the way home asked him how he happened to be out of the wagon; Miller said, "I think I run over a large stone which jolted the wagon and threw me out;" at about this time they were overtaken by John Donahue on horseback, who, looking into the wagon said, "there lies the miserable ----. I would like to smash his face for him." Mr. Boardman replied "For God's sake don't, but go on home," which was also repeated to John by his brother Roger. When they reached the Sloyd place, Miller asked that a physician be sent for saying "he felt that he was going to die." They finally arrived at Miller's home when his wife came out and asked what the matter was, Miller replied, "Oh, Mae I am awfully hurt and am going to die." After making him comfortable, Witness and Roger Jr., went back to their homes. While on his way home witness said that Miller appeared sober and all right but at five in the afternoon he was considerably intoxicated. In the morning when Mr. Boardman went over the same road he noticed a stone or sort of ledge about 30 feet from where Miller's head lay, the night previous and also noticed that at this place a ledge appeared about one inch above the road bed. Testimony was also given regarding several minor matters. At the conclusion of this testimony court adjourned till 1:30 in the afternoon when Boardman was again called to the stand to testify regarding certain distances, places, dates and times.

At this point Roger Donahue, Jr., was discharged but was requested to remain in the court room.

Dr. J. H. Winch testified as to being present when an autopsy was performed on the body of Carlos Miller, and produced moranda made at that time; on that occasion were present beside the witness, Drs. Chandler, Mayo, Goodale and Messrs. Stanton, Fisher, Holden and others; the autopsy was performed at the Miller residence, the work being mostly done by Dr. Chandler assisted by Dr. W. B. Mayo and Dr. Wm. Goodale; on the body was found a wound over the left eye; hemorrhage from mouth and nostrils; lungs filled with blood and air; the stomach contained about four ounces of bloody matter and some irregularities were noted upon the skull. Found a fracture in or near the spine which would induce pressure upon the spinal cord. Cross examination elicited information that a pressure upon spinal cord such as mentioned would in all probability produce immediate paralysis of lower limbs. Dr. W. I. Goodale, who had Dr. Winch's practice, while the latter served as town representative in the last session of the Vermont legislature, testified in substance as did Dr. Winch and expressed belief that the cause of Carlos Miller's death was the fracture previously mentioned. Witness also told what medicine he administered while treating Miller.

Mrs. Carlos Miller, wife of the deceased, testified as to her husband being conveyed home on the night of Nov. 16th, by Mr. Boardman and Roger Donahue, Jr., they came into the yard as the clock struck 11, when her husband said "I am terribly hurt and shall never be any better," which statement repeated several times before his death, although he never mentioned the manner in which the injuries were received; he died Thursday following the day he was brought home and was unconscious for several hours before his death.

Wallace Felch lives in the near vicinity of Miller's and hearing of the accident called to see him the following morning, when witness inquired how the injuries were received, to which Miller replied, "the Donahues struck me." Further conversation was delayed at this time by the arrival of Miller's father, who had not seen him since the accident occurred. Here the question as to whether Miller referred in the conversation to the cut over his eye or to internal injuries, will probably remain unanswered.

Joseph Boardman at one time lived near the Donahue family, moving away last March; in witness house one day John Donahue said, "if I ever catch Carl Miller and Den Sployd out of sight, I will kill them sure." Mr. Boardman was quite sure he remembered the words correctly; did not think the remark was made in a joking manner and did not think John had been drinking. Thought the hard feeling grew out of the arrest and trial of one McCarty of Northfield, about a year since.

Mrs. Joseph Boardman gave testimony in substance the same as her husband.

Elias Wheeler worked for Carl Miller last winter when one day in conversation with Roger Donahue the latter said, "Miller feels big over having McCarty pulled, but I will get even with him some day."

David Boardman was again called, who testified that Miller spoke of his legs being numb and witness said that when John Donahue placed one of Miller's legs over the other he was "rather ferocious."

Dr. W. B. Mayo testified at length regarding autopsy held on Miller's body and expressed an opinion that fracture in the place where the one in question occurred would be very liable to produce death.

This closed the testimony when Justice E. H. Thayer said: "From testimony introduced, I see no reason why these men should be bound over to county court and they are now at liberty," which declaration was received with cheers and clapping of hands; Mr. Donahue jumped about two feet from his chair when the decision was given and was warmly shaken by the hand by many friends and acquaintances in the court room as were his sons. One lady was overheard to say, "that is justice and nothing but right." The decision of Justice Thayer was the subject of much favorable comment and the fact that the shadow of so dark a crime has been forever chased away from the name of citizen of this community is a matter of universal congratulation.

Northfield News July 27, 1909, front page:

Old Employee Killed

Roger Donahue of White River Junction, was instantly killed in the railroad yards there Friday morning by being caught between freight cars which he was coupling. His head was completely severed from his body. He had held the position of yard master for the past 26 years and had been employed by the Central Vermont railway for 40 years, beginning as a brakeman.

Mr. Donahue was the son of the late Timothy Donahue of Northfield. He was a native of County Kerry, Ireland, and came here when four years of age. He received his education in Northfield. In 1875 he married Miss Mary Fitzpatrick of White River Junction, who with six children survive him, and also a brother J.C. Donahue and a sister Mrs. J.W. Welch of Northfield, and another sister, Mrs. J.C. Hurley of St. Albans. Mr. Donahue was an upright and highly respected citizen and his home town was greatly shocked at his tragic death.

The funeral was held from St. Anthony's church, Monday morning, Rev. Father Delaney officiating. The church filled to overflowing with friends while his and the abundance of floral offerings bespoke the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

The bearers were Dennis Sullivan, John Hanahan, Hugh O'Neil, George Burns, Thomas O'Brien and Michael O'Neil. Those in attendance at the funeral from Northfield were Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Donahue and Miss Mary and Timothy, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Welch, William and Bridget McCauliffe.

Word was received last evening of the accidental death of Henry Fitzpatrick, a brother of Mrs. Roger Donahue. He was an electrician in St. Albans and while repairing the lines late yesterday afternoon, he received a shock which caused his death.

Public Service Commission of the State of Vermont.

No. 524.

Re Fatal Accident To Roger Donahue, At White River Junction, July 23, 1909, On The Central Vermont Railway.

Hearing at White River Junction, September 4, 1909.
Present: Commissioners Redmond, Porter, and the Clerk.

Appearances: E. R. Buck, State's Attorney of Windsor County, for the State of Vermont. Raymond Trainor, Attorney for heirs of deceased.

REPORT.

A public investigation into the cause of this accident, held at White River Junction on September 4, 1909, revealed the following facts:

Roger Donahue was about sixty-one years of age. On July 23, 1909, he was in the employ of the Central Vermont Railway Company as conductor of the switching crew in the yard at White River Junction, where he had worked for more than twenty years. About 10:10 a. m., of that day, he had occasion to disconnect two cars in a train that was slowly moving in said yard. Those cars were equipped with the ordinary safety automatic couplers operated by a lever at the side of the car. He made two or three unsuccessful attempts to disconnect the cars by operating said lever, and thereupon stepped upon the brake beam between the cars, probably for the purpose of operating the lever on the other side. At any rate, while thus between the cars, he in some way disconnected them, and thereupon, in alighting from the brake beam, he slipped and fell across the rail in such a manner that the trucks of the advancing car severed his head from his body.

We find that the automatic coupler, and its equipment, on each car was in good order, as was revealed by inspection and experiment soon after the accident. The probability is that the inability of the deceased to work the lever was due to the binding effect of the strain on the cars, or to the twisting of the chain to which the pin is attached. Though some of the cross-examination indicated the contrary belief, we are unable to find that there was any trouble with the couplers, or that the Railway Company, or its employees, were at all to blame for the accident.

Dated at Newport, this 7th day of September, 1909.

Editor Monthly:-Talk about "free trade" between the United States and Canada; our experience is, judging by the union which took place between those two countries, October 19, 1886, that trade seems rather free, although ignorant as to what the duties may have been. One of our worthy brothers, Mr. J. C. Donahue of Division No. 24, of St. Albans, Vt., crossed into that Province the other day and victimized one of Canada's fair daughters, Miss Maggie E. Clark, of Waverly, Ontario, and they are now enjoying their honeymoon. The marriage taking place at the residence of the bride's father: after the ceremony, the bride and groom received congratulations from their many relatives and invited guests, and all repaired to the table, which was well laden with sumptuous viands. In the evening an informal reception was held, after which they prepared for their trip, taking their leave from the little Waverly station on the Canada Pacific R. R., via Brockville, Ottawa, and Montreal, en route to St. Albans, Vermont, where they intend to make their home permanently. No doubt Bro. D. met several brothers of the Division en route. There were many presents, particularly from the Waverly circle, in which the bride was a great favorite. Among others, were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Stearns, Boston, a handsome water pitcher; Mr. and Mrs. McBurney, New York, a set of silver knives, forks and three sets of silver spoons; Mr. and Miss Clark, St. Albans, a handsome owl clock, very fine; also Mr. and Mrs. Ex-Gov. J. G. Smith and family, St. Albans, a solid silver tea set. Mr. Smith is president of the Central Vermont R. R., over which Bro. D. (better known as Jerry Donahue) has been running for several years. Bro. Excerpts from a letter to Margaret dated Jan. 8, 1948 from her childhood friend Maggie F. Bennett (nee Furlong)

I was sure sorry to hear about Mike. He was comparatively young for these times and no doubt little thought last Christmas season would be his last.

The last time I saw Mike was in S. Falls shortly before we came down here. I was a St. Pat's concert and coming out here was Mike Clarke about 3 or 4 ft. away. I guess he was as surprised as I for he exclaimed "Well Maggie Furlong!" How heart-warming a salutation instead of the cold formal Mrs. We had not much time to talk in the crowd but how good to see one from the past. My son's wife knew Mike well as her father was station agent at Kaladar on thelin Mike was on and he had visited at their home when visiting friends who lived at the same place.

I shall always remember you as you looked your wedding night singing "going home with Willie etc." I thought you were the most beautiful creature I had ever seen in my young life and even yet. I cannot think of ever seeing anyone more beautiful. Now that should perk you up for another ten years!

Jeremiah Cornelius DONAHUE and Margaret E. CLARK(E) had the following children:

53. i. JOHN CLARKE⁴ DONAHUE (son of Jeremiah Cornelius DONAHUE and Margaret E. CLARK(E)) was born on 15 Jul 1887 in St. Albans, Franklin, Vermont. He died on 25 Aug 1979 in Mountain Lakes, Morris, New Jersey. He married Kathleen Helen MARTIN (daughter of Michael MARTIN and Frances FERGUSON) on 24 Oct 1916. She was born on 03 Oct 1888 in Newton, Middlesex, Massachusetts. She died on 07 Nov 1960 in Massachusetts.

Jeremiah was known as Jermy in the family. His birth record is Jerry R. Donahue. His death record reads Jimmie.

These all come from the Northfield News Tuesday, November 17, 1896. They are all found on the last page:

Card of Thanks:--Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Donahue extend heartfelt thanks to friends and neighbors for many kindnesses and favors shown during their recent bereavement in the death and burial of their little son Jermie.

The cadets who board at the mess hall took their meals at the Northfield House part of last week on account of the death of the son of J. C. Donahue who has charge of the mess hall.

Jermie, the seven year old son of Merchant J. C. Donahue and wife died Thursday morning at two o'clock, of acute pneumonia, after an illness of only 24 hours. The funeral occurred at St. John's Catholic church, Saturday forenoon at 10 o'clock, Rev. Father Donahue officiating, assisted by the regular choir of the church; the bearers were class and schoolmates of the little boy, and were James Stack, Ralph Hedges, Eugene Parker, Dean Johnson, Johnnie McGrath and Johnnie Doheny. A white plush covered casket contained the remains and all of the funeral the funeral arrangements were in the best of taste. The death of the little boy was wholly unexpected until a few hours before it occurred and is a sad affliction to the family; Jermie was an unusually bright boy, very popular among his associates and during his attendance at the Graded school had made marked progress. Sympathy is extended the family in their great sorrow. The flowers were unusual in quantity and beauty, the cross and wreath furnished by Prof. C. C. Brill and wife being especially handsome.

(Just a note, it was Margaret who was in charge of the mess hall, or at least did all the work.)

Notes for Dennis Daniel O'Connell DONAHUE:

Dennis's birth apparently went unrecorded until 1950. Dennis was a chemist who worked for a pharmaceutical company. He experimented on himself and ended up an addict. Oral family history is that he felt responsible for his mother's death because he was the one who had her put in an old folks home. He and his sisters felt that because of the care she received there she died sooner than if she had stayed home. Dennis, feeling despondent, went to Montreal and hung himself in his hotel room.

He was born on 07 Feb 1910 in Barre City, Washington, Vermont. He died in Apr 1980 in Springfield, Hampton, Massachusetts.

Notes for Marguerite Cornelia DONAHUE:

Original birth record shows Margaret Gonnellia but there is a deposition from Margueite in the records correcting the record. Her father's occupation at the time of her birth was liveryman.

According to her brother Gerald's obituary, she was a student nurse in 1938 at the Barre Hospital. She graduated from the nursing program in 1940. She is buried in Hope cemetery in Barre, VT. She eloped with Aldo John Leani to Montreal when she was 36 because she needed to keep the wedding secret until she had graduated from nursing school.

Her middle name of Cornelia was given to her in honor of a favorite teacher of her mother. She later had her name changed to Marguerite Elizabeth Donahue.

64. viii. ROBERT JOHN DONAHUE (son of Jeremiah Michael DONAHUE and Anna (Annie) BREMMER) was born on 13 Aug 1906 in Northfield, Washington, Vermont, USA. He died on 29 Mar 1984 in Zephyr Hills, Florida. He married Ida Elisabeth LEBLANC (daughter of Eugene LEBLANC and Annie GIGUERE) on 15 Oct 1935 in Claremont, New Hampshire. She was born on 29 Mar 1929 in Manchester, New Hampshire. She died on 12 Apr 2006 in South Burlington, Chittenden, Vermont, USA.

He was born in Dec 1864 in Hyde Park, Lamoille, Vermont. He died on 11 Oct 1926 in Peabody, Essex, Massachusetts.

Notes for Margaret (Maggie) DONAHUE:

Maggie's second marriage was to a farmer, according to the 1900 census. She had moved from the city out to the farm.

Generation 4 (con't)

All of Maggie's children were, it appears, born at home. Maggie's Goldsbury children's births are found in Barre City but the death of Earle and her husband, William, were recorded in Barre Town records. Apparently they owned a farm in what would become Barre Town. The older 2 LePage children's births may be in Barre Town. What is interesting is the number of children that the records list her as having. On Arthur's birth record, he is listed as being the 4th child, and so it increases through each succeeding child except 1. Arthur LePage, her second husband, is the informant for all the LePage births except Harold Stanley's. For his birth the informant was the doctor. Harold Stanley is listed as being her 12th child and the father's occupation is listed as watchman at engine house. For each of the births for which Arthur was the informant, his occupation is listed as harness maker.

Notes for William Addison GOLDSBURY:

Death record lists age at 30 years 2 months. Occupation listed as farmer. He was previously a stone cutter, hence the tuberculosis. In each of his children's birth records that was his occupation.

He died on 16 Oct 1933 in Montpelier, Washington, Vermont, USA.

34. JOANNA⁴ DONAHUE (Roger³, John² DONOGHUE, John¹ DONOGHUE) was born on 27 Mar 1881 in Northfield, Washington, Vermont, USA. She married Leonard RELATION (son of Frank RELATION and Josephine LAFORREST) on 15 Jan 1902 in Williamstown, Orange, Vermont. He was born in New York. He died on 27 Apr 1914 in Barre City, Washington, Vermont.

Notes for Joanna DONAHUE:

Marriage record lists Josie Donahue. Birth records of children 4, 5, & 6 give her name as Johanna (at least that's what it looked like on the microfilm - it could have been Joanna). Her other children's birth records have her name as Josie. Her parents' grave monument lists all their children and their birth dates. On the stone she is listed as Joanna.

Notes for Leonard RELATION:

Leonard's name has also appeared in records as Lenard. His maternal grandfather was listed as Lenard on Josephine's death record. Leonard's birthplace has been listed as Chazy, New York; Sciota, New York; and Plattsburg, New York in different records. His death record lists Plattsburg. His marriage record lists Chazy. Some of his children's birth records list Sciota. This is consistent with records in connection with his brothers. His occupation on his death record is Derrickman.

Generation 4 (con't)

Leonard RELATION and Joanna DONAHUE had the following children:

- i. BESSIE BRIDGET⁵ RELATION (daughter of Leonard RELATION and Joanna DONAHUE) was born on 26 Nov 1902 in Northfield, Washington, Vermont, USA. She died on 30 Sep 1918 in Barre City, Washington, Vermont.

Notes for Bessie Bridget RELATION:

Birth record also in Northfield Vital records, births/deaths vol.4 p. 12, #48. Mother listed as Josie. Parents were informants on birth record. Bessie died just short of her 16th birthday, if the birth record is accurate. The death record says she was 16 years and 2 days. It is not unusual for births to go unrecorded for days, weeks, months, even years and then the date entered is the best recollection, though that usually occurred before 1900, though not always. Her occupation listed on her death record was waitress. Could she have come in contact with a WWI veteran who passed on the deadly flu that veterans brought back with them from Europe? She died about 4 years after her father and 1 year and 2 months after her death her mother had an illegitimate son, who is unnamed in the State archives.

- ii. MARGARET KATHREN RELATION (daughter of Leonard RELATION and Joanna DONAHUE) was born on 15 Mar 1905 in Northfield, Washington, Vermont, USA.

Notes for Margaret Kathren RELATION:

Margaret was born on King Street. Josie H. Relation is listed as the informant. Her father's name is spelled Lenard.

- v. MARION RELATION (daughter of Leonard RELATION and Joanna DONAHUE) was born on 12 Mar 1911 in Barre City, Washington, Vermont.

Notes for Marion RELATION:

Forgot to check if card was for male or female birth.

- vi. JAMES LEONARD HAROLD RELATION (son of Leonard RELATION and Joanna DONAHUE) was born on 18 Nov 1914 in Barre City, Washington, Vermont.

Notes for James Leonard Harold RELATION:

James was born about 7 months after his father's death. His father's occupation on the birth record is listed "(former stomecutter) - now dead."

- vii. MALE RELATION (son of Leonard RELATION and Joanna DONAHUE) was born on 27 Nov 1919 in Barre City, Washington, Vermont.

Notes for Male RELATION:

There is no name on the birth record on the microfilm. He was born 5 years after his mother's husband died. Illegitimate is listed as the father. He was born about a year and two months after his mother's oldest child had died. Perhaps his mother was comforted/taken advantage of.

Notes for John Clarke DONAHUE:

Vital records in Northfield, Vermont show birth record as Johnnie C. Donahue, male born 19 Oct 1887 in Northfield to Jerry & Maggie Donahue. It is incorrect - birth is actually 15 July 1887 in Saint Albans. John Clarke himself was aware of the discrepancy. Oral history says that Jeremiah, father, got off the train in Northfield and recorded the birth late. John is buried in Calgary Cemetery, also known as the "new" Catholic cemetery, even though it opened between 1900 and 1902.

Obituary of John Sr., written by his son John Clarke Donahue, Jr.:

Mountain Lakes, N.J. -- John C. Donahue, an electrical engineer who helped expand the utilities industry during the early third of the century, died Saturday, Aug. 25, 1979. He was 92 years old.

Mr. Donahue, a Massachusetts resident, claimed his native Vermont as home. He had been visiting his son's family here when he died at Hospice, a pilot facility for terminal cancer patients in Boonton Township.

He will be buried Monday in the family plot in Calvary Cemetery, Northfield, Vt., after a sung mass of requiem at St. John's Catholic Church. Visiting hours at Kingston Funeral Home, 2 Slate St., Northfield, will be from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday

John Clarke Donahue was born July 15, 1887 in St. Albans, Vt., the eldest of 10 children of Margaret Clarke and Jeremiah Cornelieus Donahue.

The family moved back to Northfield, where Mr. Donahue received his early education. He moved in 1905 to Lynn, Mass. to study toolmaking at the General Electric works, but switched to electricity and pursued his education nights at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge.

Mr. Donahue soon joined the Tenney Company of Boston, an electrical engineering and management firm, and while with that organization was made a professional electrical engineer. During the 1920s he was sent as a field engineer responsible for the installation of electric power generating stations at Mollys Falls, Vt. and Swinging Bridge, Rio and Mongaup in the Catskills in New York State.

When the Tenney organization split up during the 30s, Mr. Donahue stayed on with Rockland Light & Power Co., later Orange and Rockland Utilities, in Middletown and Nyack, N.Y.

He retired in 1955 as head of the substation division and moved to Abington, Mass., where he later joined his son in a newspaper venture as president of Editorial Associates, Inc., publishers of the Braintree Sunday News.

Mr. Donahue was a lifetime member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, now the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, and of the Knights of Columbus. He was a bass soloist in many churches, and active in choral societies until he was 90.

He is survived by a son, John C. Donahue Jr., of Mountain Lakes; two daughters, Margaret Davis of West Fairlee Center, Vt. and Frances Leach of South Duxbury, Mass.; two sisters, Anna Ashton and Margaret Garrity, both of Northfield; 12 grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

His wife of 54 year, Kathleen Martin, predeceased him in 1960.

As a result, Kathleen was expelled from school until she apologized. Family oral history has Kathleen's mother forcing her back to school to tender an apology. Kathleen said, "I'm sorry because my mother told me to say so, but I'm really not."

The Northfield News

John C. Donahue Jr., editor and publisher of The Northfield News and Transcript until he sold it in July of 2008, a newspaperman whose career spanned 75 years from 1933 to 2008, died Saturday, October 4, 2008, of cancer, at 134 Donahue Drive. He was 88 years old.

That career started and ended in Northfield, but took him over the years to Boston, New York, Washington and Paris, where he was a foreign correspondent for the old United Press.

His interest in printing and journalism began in Northfield Falls when he and a cousin, the late Thomas A. Donahue, each almost 13, established the Falls News on July 15, 1933. It was a summer weekly that continued for five years.

He started The Northfield Transcript in retirement in 1999 to demonstrate what he believed a newspaper should be. He was forced to give it up in 2001 after he came down with myasthnia gravis, a neurological disorder that affected his eyesight. But when the 129-year-old Northfield News came on the market, his myasthenia in remission, he bought the paper in January 2007 and combined it with the revived Transcript.

Mr. Donahue worked his way through high school and college on various newspapers, and after his service in the U.S. Coast Guard in the European Atlantic during World War II he returned to Vermont as sports editor of the old Burlington Daily News.

He was editor of Bostonian magazine and managing editor of the Boston Transcript magazine.

At one time or another he covered events in every major country in Western Europe. He left United Press to return to the Burlington Daily News and Vermont Sunday News as managing editor.

He was later national editor of The Washington Post for six years.

He was founding editor and publisher of the Braintree, Mass., Sunday Forum and worked for a time on the day desk of the Boston Evening Globe. He was editor and publisher of Suburban Trends, Butler, N.J., one of the newspapers published by the late Ralph Ingersoll. Mr. Donahue taught journalism at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind., and served as publisher of the student daily, the Purdue Exponent.

Mr. Donahue retired in 1992 and returned to Northfield after nine years on the Daily Record of Morristown, N.J., where he was successively copy desk chief and editor of the editorial page.

He was born July 24, 1920, in Lynn, Mass., son of Kathleen (Martin) Donahue and John C. Donahue Sr. The senior Donahue came from Northfield and the family always considered it their home.

Mr. Donahue Sr. was an electrical engineer in charge of power station construction in many locations, so young John was educated in schools in Northfield Falls and St. Albans, in Massachusetts, Ohio, New York and New Jersey.

He was graduated from Manhattan College in New York in 1942 with a bachelor of arts degree in English and history. He did graduate work at the New School for Social Research in New York, at the University of Vermont, the University of Rhode Island, the Institut d'Etudes Politiques of the Université de Paris and the Università Italiana per Stranieri in Perugia, Italy.

Generation 5 (con't)

He married Marie Maurice Christiane de Vitry d'Avaucourt in Paris in 1953. She survives him.

He is also survived by three sons, John C. III of Denville, N.J., Pierre M. of Takokma Park, Md., and Marc T.C. of Moncicello, Ind.; three daughters, Anne de la B. of Northfield, Christiane K. of Northfield, and Mayalen Mary of Tampa, Fla.; a sister, Meg Donahue Davis of Northfield, and seven grandchildren as well as many cousins and other relatives in Northfield.

He was predeceased by his parents and a sister, Frances D. Leach of Burlington.

Mr. Donahue was a member of the O'Donoghue Society - Royal Order of Eoghanacht O Donnchadha of Ireland, the Manhattan College Alumni, the Northfield Historical Society, St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church and Sorrel-Maynard Post 63 American Legion.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held on October 6, at St. John the Evangelist Church, Vine Street, Northfield, with burial following at Calvary Cemetery.

HANOVER, N.H. - Christiane Kathleen Donahue, daughter of Christiane and John C. Donahue Jr. of Northfield, Vt., has been appointed the inaugural director of the new Institute for Writing and Rhetoric at Dartmouth, the college announced last week.

Miss Donahue, an associate professor at the University of Maine at Farmington, will start Sept. 1. She writes occasionally for The Northfield News and Transcript under the by-line Tiane Martin, an old family surname.

She has more than 25 years experience in higher education with an emphasis on writing and linguistics.

She has been with the university since 2002, serving as director of the Composition Program where she is responsible for coordinating UMF's writing requirement and as a consultant to the Writing Across the Disciplines program in which she is responsible for the writing component of faculty development projects.

She was also co-director of Project Maine - France, an initiative between the University of Maine system and several French universities that create opportunities for student exchange, faculty exchange and research collaboration.

A Fulbright scholar, Professor Donahue has a doctorate in the science of linguistics from the Université René Descartes, part of the Université de Paris, a master's in linguistics/writing from Northeastern University and a bachelor's from Simmons College in Boston. She will also be an associate professor of linguistics at Dartmouth.

"My goals for the institute include supporting the excellent work in place at Dartmouth, exploring new ways to extend that work, supporting the expansion of writing and rhetoric instruction across students' Dartmouth careers, collaboratively implementing assessment of students' progress, and fostering faculty members' discussions about their own and their students' work in writing and scholarly presentation," the college quoted Professor Donahue.

Professor Donahue will report to Associate Dean for International and Interdisciplinary Programs Lindsay Whaley.

Dr. Donahue was selected as the candidate who best fit the current needs of the Institute," Dartmouth quoted him. "She brings both experience in writing program administration and strong credentials as a teacher and a scholar. Dr. Donahue's background in examining writing from a cross-cultural perspective connects well with Dartmouth's commitment to diversity and to excellence in our efforts at writing instruction."

WILLIAM H. DAVIS

Peru, New York

William H. Davis saved Roswell A. Spinks from burning, Peru, New York, December 27, 1960. After skidding on icy pavement and striking a telephone pole, the four-door sedan driven by Spinks stopped with the engine still running and the horn sounding. Spinks, 36, railroad transportation clerk, was thrown to the floor and wedged between the doorpost and the right side of the twisted front seat as gasoline from the ruptured fuel tank flowed onto the ground and ignited. Davis, 34, teacher, ran to the left side of the sedan, approaching cautiously lest an explosion be set off by sparks from the left rear wheel, which was spinning rapidly. He peered into the vehicle but could see nothing because of the smoke. Davis then ran to a truck, which had stopped nearby and obtained a fire extinguisher, but it would not work. As flames on the ground rose to two feet in height, Davis ran around the front end of the sedan with caution lest the vehicle lurch forward. After several attempts, he opened the jammed right front door. Still unable to see anything inside, Davis thrust his upper body into the sedan and felt about until he touched Spinks, who barely was conscious. Within two feet of flames then burning on the rear seat, Davis grasped Spinks by the shoulder, dislodged him with difficulty, and then drew him to a seated position. After tugging several times, he pulled Spinks from the sedan and dragged him six feet away, from where two men then aided in carrying him 25 feet farther. As they placed Spinks on the ground, an explosive spread of flames quickly covered the entire vehicle. Firemen extinguished the flames. Spinks was hospitalized two weeks and recovered.

Northfield News and Advertiser February 4, 1965 (above the fold)

Young Timothy Donahue Favored for Postmaster

If the preferences of the members of the Northfield Town Democratic Committee prevails, young Timothy Donahue will follow in the footsteps of his father as postmaster of Northfield.

"Old Tim" retired from that position a year ago at the age of 70 after serving for 13 years. Meanwhile, Dimitry Borozny has been serving as acting postmaster.

Young Tim won the endorsement of committee Democrats at a meeting held Saturday night. He received a total of 27 votes in a field of three candidates. Arthur Peterson had 14 and Delmar Chase two. The committee then voted to make the Donahue choice unanimous.

How soon the new postmaster will take office remains a question. Channels through which the recommendation now must go include county and state Democratic bigwigs and the Post Office Department.
